Neighborhood Cats was formed in 1999 in New York City to create awareness of the feral and free-roaming cat overpopulation crisis and to promote and establish trap-neuter-return (TNR) as the most humane and effective solution. Through our website, TNR workshops, Coach program, and our expert advice, we educate, advocate, and advance the practice of TNR. Our ultimate goal is to improve the lives of the millions of cats living on our streets and support the compassionate people caring for them.

For questions and help with your TNR project or for a TNR coach to help you on the first day of your project please contact:

TRAP BANKS

You don't have to buy your own equipment; you can borrow from the trap banks listed below. Please give yourself at least one week to secure equipment. All traps available from the sources below have a removable rear door. Use only these traps to facilitate caring for cats pre/post-surgery. Get two dividers when you borrow traps. Please reserve one or two more traps than there are cats. Before you leave a trap bank, make sure you know how to use traps and that they are all in working order. All trap banks require a refundable deposit. All equipment must be returned clean and in working order before the deposit is returned.

Book your spay/neuter appointments before reserving traps. For updated info on trap banks in New York City, go to www.neighborhoodcats.org/tnr-in-nyc/trap-banks.

The NYC Feral Cat Initiative, a program of Bideawee, may be able to assist with transportation to/from the veterinary clinic you're using for spay/neuter surgery or to/from a trap bank if they are given enough notice (at least 7-10 days in advance of your spay/neuter date). Please contact debra.graham@bideawee.org and cc kathleen.omalley@bideawee.org.

ONLINE RESOURCES

- Cat Stats database

www.catstats.org/nyc

If you are managing a colony of cats in New York City and doing TNR, you can help your cats and all community cats by registering your colony in the Cat Stats NYC database, a program of Neighborhood Cats. By registering, you'll supply us with valuable information on the impact of TNR in NYC and help us gain more resources for feral and stray cats. You'll also make it easier for us to locate you if one of your eartipped cats arrives at the city shelter, Animal Care Centers of New York City (ACC). You can register more than one colony and update your colony information whenever you like. If you are trapping for uncertified feeders, make sure you register their colonies too! Otherwise, we'll have no idea these managed colonies exist. All information on your identity and the exact locations of colonies will be held in strict confidence. For more information visit www.neighborhoodcats.org/tnr-in-nyc/colony-database

- TNR in NYC discussion group

This online discussion group is set up for TNR certified caretakers to network and find resources for colony care and doing TNR. Find possible help with holding space, transportation, neighborhood support, networking, volunteers, etc.

To join, go to <https://groups.io/g/TNRinNYC> and click on "Apply for Membership In This Group."

EARTIPPED CATS & ANIMAL CARE CENTERS OF NYC

Over two decades ago, Neighborhood Cats spearheaded a program to retrieve eartipped cats from the three shelters operated by Animal Care Centers of NYC (ACC). The program allows the cats to return to their colonies and go on with their outdoor lives. When an eartipped cat enters the shelter, we check our Cat Stats database and attempt to locate and notify the original caretaker so they can claim the cat.

We now have the help of ACC to help get the word out about eartipped cats at their facilities. To receive alerts and any updates, follow ACC's Instagram account: @nycacc_eartipalert.

With more TNR, there may be more eartipped cats entering the shelters. Here are some important steps that you as caretakers can take to help us find you and get your eartipped colony cat back to you ASAP:

- Make sure your contact info is current and you are receiving our Neighborhood Cats emails.
- Register and update your colonies in our database. www.catstats.org/nyc
- If you are trapping for uncertified feeders, make sure you register their colonies too. Otherwise, we'll have no idea these managed colonies exist.
- Do your due diligence when it comes to community relations. Learn which neighbors are unhappy with the cats and why, then make good faith efforts to resolve the situation.
- If you are missing a community cat, contact CommunityCats@nycacc.org as well as tnr@neighborhoodcats.org

Post-Surgery Instructions For FERAL CATS

Pain relief/Sutures - Your feral cat was given two pain medication injections, Meloxicam and Buprenorphine. A small green tattoo line is on the stomach. Females- sutures are internal and will dissolve. Males - do not have sutures, but have a small incision to the scrotum; these will be healed completely by the time you release him.

After surgery, allow the cat to recover in the live trap - For the cat's safety and yours, DO NOT transfer the cat into another trap or carrier. The least amount of human contact makes for less stress and is better for the cat. It is much less stressful for them to stay in the trap. It is important that the recovery location is temperature controlled. A basement, bathroom or spare room usually works well. A garage may work if not too hot, cold or drafty. Place a tarp or plastic drop cloth lined with newspaper under the trap. A puppy pad or newspaper should be placed inside the trap to help absorb feces/urine. Cover traps loosely with a large towel or sheet so that the cat feels safer and leave some space through which the cat can get fresh air.

Monitor the cat – The cat should be fully alert when you pick them up and able to eat normally. Only check on them when feeding and cleaning. Monitor the cat's breathing, for possible bleeding and for other visible signs that indicate a change from its usual behavior. Keep children and other animals away from the area and avoid loud noises and music. Cats prefer it to be quiet and dark.

Provide food and water - Offer food and water as soon as possible. They will only have had a small meal while in our care. Use a trap divider “fork” to make cleaning & feeding safe. We have them available for loan. Do not open the trap or stick your fingers or hands in the trap without a fork. Keep the trap locked at all times. Lift the sheet up and uncover just the trap area you need access to. This will cause less stress for them and allow you access to the side you need. Cats will typically move to the darker/covered areas naturally.

Keep cats until they recover - In general, they need to be held one to two nights after surgery. The first night is with us. We suggest one night for males and 2 nights for females. Nursing mothers may be returned once they have completely regained consciousness so they can get back to their kittens. Make sure all cats are fully conscious, clear-eyed, and alert before release - and had a good meal. Sometimes there are very special medical/weather circumstances when a cat needs to be held for more than 48 hours; it is recommended that they be transferred to a “holding pen” or large crate where litter can be provided if held many more days than this.

Return the cats - Release the cat in the same place you trapped him or her. Place the covered trap up to a bush or other similar like object the cat can hide in. Pull back the cover some and give the cat a few minutes to get oriented. Open the trap door. The cat may hesitate a few moments before leaving the trap. This is no cause for alarm. Resume the feeding schedule and provide water just as you did before. It is not uncommon for a cat to “disappear” for a few days after being returned to their “home”. They will return eventually for their next meal.

Questions/Emergency

If there are any questions/problems/concerns, call/email us immediately at the clinic the cat visited.

No More Homeless Pets!

Winter Community Cat Shelter Tips

- Shelter sizing – shelter should be small enough to allow the cat's body heat to help keep the shelter warm. Cat needs to be able to stand up and turn around. Too much space and the heat dissipates.
- The door hole is up high so when it snows/rains, it doesn't cover the entrance or flow into the hole.
- Fill shelters about 1/2 to 3/4 full of loose straw and make sure to mat it down a bit around the opening of the shelter so shelter is easy to get in. Tape the top on; all around the seam of the lid.
- Place your shelter on top of a pallet or bricks so it's not right on the ground soaking up the cold from the earth.
- Face the door away from the wind/elements.
- Add something heavy to the top of the shelter to ensure it's steady and doesn't tip or blow over.
- Straw is the best material for bedding. Never use items that can retain moisture & freeze - cats can get frostbite and have been known to freeze to the material. Even condensation from the kitty breathing while asleep can cause problems with materials that hold moisture. Make sure it's dry straw. If you think the straw is wet inside the shelter, change it out. Straw and hay are not the same thing. Remember "Straw is for Strays and Hay is for Horses".
- You can add a 'porch' over hang over the door. A sturdy plastic pot or bucket with the bottom cut out works great. Door holes should be 5.5 to 6 inches. Any bigger means unnecessary exposure to the elements and other animals can get in. Any smaller and the cat may not be able to get in.
- Never feed inside of a shelter. Instead, make a separate covered feeding station.
- Having trouble getting them to go in? Try catnip on the ledge entrance and inside.
- Camouflage and hide your shelters. Neighbors and animal control don't want to see them.
The less visible the cat colony is, the safer the cats are.
- And lastly, but most important – make sure all the cats are sterilized!

Feline Deterrents

		Item	How it Works/Notes	Cost	Manufacturers	Where to Purchase
Motion Activated	Most Effective ↑	Ultrasonic Deterrent	Usually motion activated and emits an unpleasant sound that humans cannot hear.	$$$	Bird-X "Yard Gard" / PestAway / PestBye / Yard Sentinel	Amazon/Local hardware
		Motion Activated Sprinkler	Can cover 1000sq/ft and multiple sprinklers can be linked to cover more area.	$$$	Contech "Scarecrow" /Havahart/Orbit/PestBye	Lowes/HD/Amazon
		StayAway	Blast of compressed air to scare the cat. Good for porches/small areas.	$$	Contech	Amazon/Local hardware
Scent Based		Citrus Based Items: - Citronella (oil, plant, etc) - Orange/lemon/lime peels - Orange oil concentrate Other Items: - Raw onions/Vinegar - Chili powder - Oil of mustard - Coffee grounds - Rosemary + water	Cats are naturally deterred by citrus/spicy/bitter odors. These items should be sprayed or sprinkled around a fence-line or garden to deter cats.	$	AG Organics/Havahart/various	Amazon/Local hardware/Grocery store/Greenhouse
		Scaredy cat herbs/flowers	Plant: marigold, coleus cania, rue, lavender, rosemary, penny royal, lemon thyme, geraniums, absenthe, green onions etc. Good for gardens/landscaping.	$	Various	Local nursery
Visual/ Texture		Cat Scat Mats, Chicken wire, limestone, rough rocks, pine cones, etc	Deters cats from walking on these due to rough surfaces. Good for gardens.	$	Amazon, Gardeners.com, Various	Local hardware
		Tinfoil flags, ribbed water bottles (full)	Reflective items can appear to cats as predators and scare them away.	$/0	Various	Local hardware
NOTES		*Ensure wild catnip or spider plants aren't growing nearby as they attract cats. Sources of food and shelter also attract cats. IHA'S QUICK GUIDE TO: COMMUNITY CATS

This is an ear-tip

It could save a cat's life!

The ear-tip signifies that the "community cat" has been spayed or neutered, has received a rabies vaccine, and is part of the Trap, Neuter, Return (TNR) movement. An ear-tip is intended for cats that live primarily outdoors. These community cats may not have an owner or home. Their "home" usually consists of a couple of safe places to protect themselves from the harsh elements and compassionate citizens that feed them.

These ear-tipped community cats should never be re-trapped and brought to a shelter unless they are sick. Instead, they should be left in the neighborhood to prevent other cats from moving in. Even if you don't like cats, these TNR ear-tipped, spayed/neutered cats play an important role in keeping the cat population under control.

An ear-tip is the removal of the distal 1/4 or tip of the cat's left ear. The tip removed is approximately 3/8 of an inch or 1 cm on an adult cat and proportionally smaller on a kitten. The procedure is performed under sterile conditions while the cat is under anesthesia. There is little or no bleeding and it is relatively painless.

An ear-tip has proven to be the safest and the most effective method to visually identify a community cat that has been spayed or neutered. It has become universally accepted and is recognized by international animal welfare organizations.

IHA thanks you for choosing to spay/neuter and ear-tip.
